Between attending classes, studying for exams and fulfilling other commitments, it's not easy finding time to go the doctor. That's where LiveHealth Online comes in. It's an easy, convenient and secure option when your student health center is closed.

5 steps to getting a video visit with a doctor

1 Sign up

Go to livehealthonline.com or download the app and register. Make sure you enter your member ID number located on your Anthem ID card.

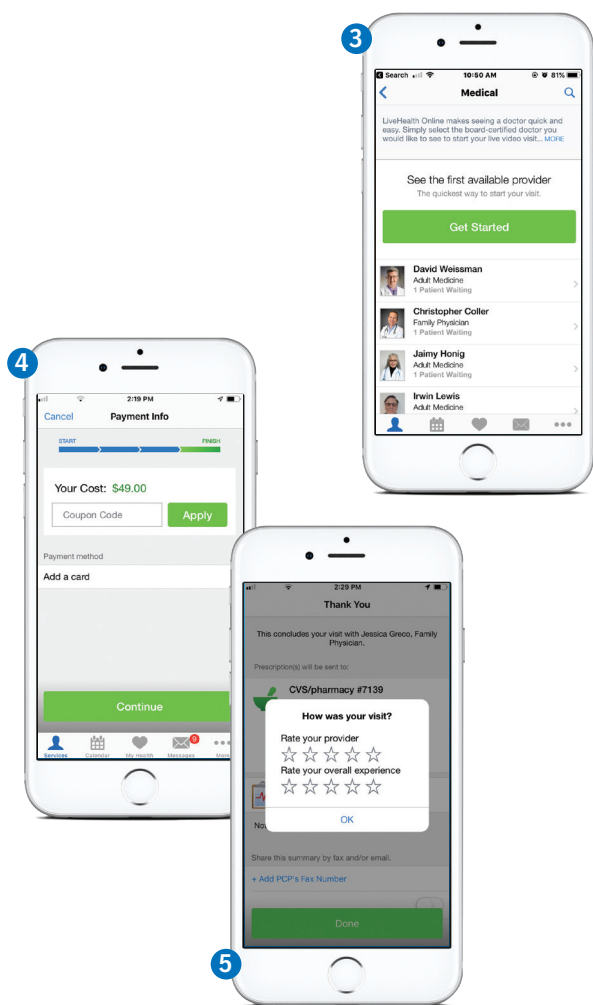

2 Secure your connection

When you're ready to see a doctor, you can connect by computer, tablet or smartphone with internet and video capabilities.

In addition to seeing a medical doctor, you can consult with a board-certified psychiatrist or behavioral health counselor online within two weeks.^{1,2}

If you're over 18 years old, you can get medication support to help you manage a mental health condition. To schedule your appointment call 1-888-548-3432.

3 Choose the doctor you want to see

You don't need an appointment to see a doctor. They're always available to assess your condition and send a prescription to the pharmacy you choose, if needed.³ It's a great option when you have common health problems like pink eye, a cold, the flu, a fever, allergies or a sinus infection. When you log in to LiveHealth Online, you'll see the different doctors available to you. Usually you're connected to a doctor in minutes.

4 Verify your information and pay your copay

After you select a doctor, you'll be asked one more time to verify your insurance information and confirm your copay, if any. If you have a copay, you'll be asked to enter your credit card information. If you have SHIP insurance, please refer to your plan documents for your benefits and copay for LiveHealth Online.

5 Complete a post-visit survey

At the end of your visit, you'll be asked to fill out a short survey and share your medical records with your student health center. Please make sure to enter your student health center's email address so your care can be coordinated appropriately.
